3.0 Cash 4 You's Commitment to Accessibility

Cash 4 You is committed to identifying, removing and preventing barriers to accessibility for persons with disabilities. We comply with applicable legal and regulatory requirements, including those set out in human rights and accessibility-related legislation. We will ensure that:

- goods, services, employment and programs are provided in a manner that respects the dignity and independence of persons with disabilities;
- information and communication is provided in accessible formats where requested; and
- accessibility is integrated into our regular workplace processes, thereby providing equal access and opportunity across all stages of the employment lifecycle for colleagues with disabilities.

Further to these commitments, Cash 4 You's Multi-year Accessibility Plan outlines the Company's phased-in strategy for identifying, removing and preventing barriers to accessibility.

- The Plan is posted on our website (www.cash4you.ca) and will be provided in alternate formats upon request.
- The Plan will be reviewed and updated at least once every five years.

4.0 Accessible Information and Communication

Accessible Websites and Web Content

Cash 4 You's websites and web content will conform to level A of the Worldwide Web Consortium's Web Content Accessibility Guidelines.

Accessibility is integrated into Cash 4 You's communication methods as follows:

- a) Feedback
Cash 4 You ensures its process for receiving and addressing feedback is accessible by providing or arranging for the provision of accessible formats and communication supports, upon request.
- b) Accessible Formats and Communication Supports
Cash 4 You recognizes that persons with disabilities may use alternative methods to access information or services and will upon request provide, or arrange for the provision of, information and communication in an alternative format. The Company will consult with the person making the request in determining the suitability of an accessible format or communication support.

5.0 Employment

Emergency Response Plans

Cash 4 You provides workplace emergency response information to its colleagues. An alternative emergency preparedness plan will be completed, and updated as required, for each colleague with a disability for whom the Company is aware an individualized plan is necessary.

Accessibility is integrated into Cash 4 You's employment-related practices as follows:

- a) Recruitment
 - Cash 4 You notifies all internal and external job applicants, in job postings and when inviting an applicant to an interview or assessment, that accommodation is available upon request. When arranging accommodation, the Company will consult with the job applicant to determine their specific accessibility needs.
 - When an offer of employment is made, Cash 4 You notifies the successful applicant of its policies for accommodating employees with disabilities.
- b) Workplace
 - Cash 4 You informs its colleagues of its policies relating to accessibility for colleagues with disabilities, including during orientation and onboarding.
 - In response to a colleague request, the Company will, in consultation with the colleague, provide or arrange for the provision of accessible formats and communication support for information that is required in order for the colleague to perform his/her job and access information that is generally available to colleagues in the workplace.
 - Cash 4 You is committed to accommodating colleagues' disabilities. Colleagues requiring accommodation should advise their manager and/or human resources department (HR). Colleagues may be required to support their request with medical documentation. The Form for colleagues to take to their physician in this regard will be provided by the manager or HR. The Company will develop written individual accommodation plans for colleagues with disabilities.
- c) Return to Work from Disability-Related Leave
 - Cash 4 You maintains a documented return to work process outlining how the Company facilitates the return to work of colleagues who have been absent from work due to a disability and require accommodation in order to return. The process includes the use of a written individual accommodation plan.
 - Colleagues should notify their manager and/or HR of an impending return to work as far in advance of the return to work as possible.
- d) Performance Management and Career Development

Cash 4 You will take the accessibility needs of colleagues with disabilities and individual accommodation plans into account in all performance management and career development processes.

e) Redeployment

Where Cash 4 You redeploys a colleague with a disability, the colleague's accessibility needs and individual accommodation plan will be taken into account, so that the colleague's accommodation needs are met.

6.0 Cash 4 You Premises

By November 1, 2017 accessibility will be integrated into Cash 4 You premises as follows:

a) Exterior Paths of Travel

Any new or redeveloped sidewalks and walkways, including associated ramps, stairs, curb ramps, depressed curbs, pedestrian signals and rest areas will comply with the requirements set by provincial legislation relating to accessibility.

b) Parking

Any new or redeveloped off-street parking, accessible parking spaces, access aisles and signage will comply with the requirements set by provincial legislation relating to accessibility.

c) Service Counters, Queue Guides and Waiting Areas

- Where Cash 4 You constructs or redevelops service counters, at least one will accommodate mobility aids in respect of countertop height, knee clearance and clear floor space. All such service counters will be clearly identified with signage.
- Any new or redeveloped queuing guides will provide sufficient width to allow for the passage of mobility aids and mobility assistive devices, will have sufficiently clear floor area to permit mobility aids to turn where queues change direction, and be cane detectable.
- Any new or redeveloped waiting areas in which seating is fixed will include at least one seating space in which an individual using a mobility aid can wait.

7.0 Training

Accessibility is integrated into Cash 4 You's training programs as follows:

a) Cash 4 You ensures training is provided to colleagues, volunteers and those who provide services on the Company's behalf on the standards set by provincial legislation regarding accessibility as well as any aspect of local human rights legislation relating to persons with disabilities. Training is:

- appropriate to the duties of the person undergoing training;
- provided before or as soon as possible after the person commences job duties and whenever Cash 4 You alters its policies or practices regarding accessibility.
